Spa is a collection of holiday and casual wear including dresses, blouses and jumpsuits. Highlights include the brand's signature pashmina made from a lightweight Italian cashmere and linen blend.

Designer Lisa Tsang founded Lisa T, which specialises in knitwear. Based in the state of Central Saint Martins in London, she worked at Issey Miyake as a knitwear designer prior to setting up her brand. "After several visits to various other renowned resorts, I was inspired to design a luxurious knitted collection that is unique in the market and would also fulfil every woman's desire to be stylish during her summer travels," says Tsang.

Available at www.lisat-cashmere.com and from the Four Seasons.

columnist Barney Cheng designed costumes for the cast of The Tale of the Crested Ibis, a performance at World Expo 2010 in Shanghai. What? The Tale of the Crested Ibis is a fusion of traditional Japanese Noh drama and Chinese Kunqu opera. It symbolises the friendship between the two countries, which are collaborating to save the crested ibis, or the toki as the rare bird is known in Japan, from extinction there.

When? Performances until October 31.

Where? Japan Pavilion, World Expo 2010, Shanghai. For more information, visit <http://en.expo2010.cn>

What else? Cheng is working on a coffee table tome about his work as a designer: A charity dinner and fashion show to benefit Crossroads Foundation will take place in November to coincide with the book launch (see The Bling Thing, page 32).

sleepwear for children

TIME FOR BED

What? Marleen Molenaar Sleepwear was launched in 2003 inspired by a lack of quality infants and children's sleepwear available locally. Besides pajamas, the collection offers bathrobes, tees, nightdresses for girls, as well as rainwear and accessories such as hair clips.

Who? Founder and designer Marleen Molenaar moved to Hong Kong from her native Amsterdam in 1992. Prior to setting up her namesake label, she worked at Nike as a category product director and at Esprit, where she handled design coordination and fabric research.

Highlights "The best seller for girls is a long, slightly A-line shaped nightdress with three crochet flowers on the front, in either long or short sleeves, in a soft cotton jersey. For boys it is a woven Hawaiian shirt," says Molenaar.

Where? Marleen Molenaar Showroom, Room 502, Tak Woo House, 17-19 D'Aguiar Street, Central, tel: 2525 9872. Also available from Lane Crawford Home in Pacific Place. Website: www.marleenmolenaar.com
